Appendix A: Selected Preservation Contacts List

The following is a selected list of contacts of various preservation-related governmental and non-profit entities that are proponents of historic preservation in Tarrant County. The list is by no means a comprehensive inventory of such groups; however, it includes some of the most important that could support a variety of preservation-related activities. This was compiled in September 2020 and is subject to change. All information was obtained through online research and is available to the public.

In addition, the Tarrant County Office of Historic Preservation and Archives maintains its own list of stakeholders with an interest in historic preservation issues within Tarrant County. At the time of the preparation of this document, the list contains 973 stakeholders that includes private citizens, groups, public officials, and organizations in both the public and private sectors.

Appendix B: Designated Properties List

Appendix B: Historic Designations in Tarrant County

Multiple programs at the federal and state levels of government support the designation of historic properties within their respective programs. Chapter 2 of this document includes summaries of each program and notes the governmental agencies that oversee these programs and key provisions of the designations. Each program relies on its own criteria that may sometimes, but not necessarily, overlap with and share common values with other types of historic designations; however, each designation is separate and independent of one another.

The following tables identify the specific properties in Tarrant County that have been designated as historic through a database maintained by the THC. Information in each table, presented in city and name order, was compiled from queries and searches of the THC's Texas Historic Sites Atlas (<https://atlas.thc.state.tx.us/>), which includes information on over 300,000 records in the state of Texas. The queries reflect information that was current in May 2020 and may not necessarily reflect current tallies. The Atlas enables researchers to query and filter this vast amount of information with customizable search parameters. The amount of information on each property/record varies considerably, but often contains useful historical information. To aid researchers, the tables include the unique identifier (Atlas Number) to go directly to the listed record. To access this search feature, go to the following url: <https://atlas.thc.state.tx.us/AdvancedSearch/AtlasNumberSearch>.

Appendix C: Previously Identified Historic Resources

Appendix C: Previously Identified Historic Resources

The following tables list previously identified historic resources that are included in the THC's Texas Historic Sites Atlas (<https://atlas.thc.state.tx.us/>). This appendix does not include the 1,722 resources tallied within the city of Fort Worth because of the large number of records. The THC compiled the data presented in these tables from various historic resources surveys that have been conducted in Tarrant County since 1970. More detailed information, including photos, survey forms, and locational data, is on file with the Historic Resources Survey Program at the THC in Austin. As maintained by the THC, the survey information is not formatted in a manner that easily enables the records to be sorted by address. Therefore, the following tables group the resources by city and then list the properties in alphabetical order by resource name. The table includes the applicable Atlas Number, which can be used to retrieve the record directly from the Atlas. To view a record, enter the applicable Atlas Number when you go to the following website: <https://atlas.thc.state.tx.us/AdvancedSearch/AtlasNumberSearch>. The Survey Source column identifies the historic resources survey effort that documented the property. Chapter 2 of the preservation plan contains more information about each survey effort; the following provides limited background material for context.

- THC – THC staff conducted the earliest historic resources surveys incorporated into the Texas Historic Sites Atlas. Surveyed in Tarrant County from 1970 into the early 1980s, this project targeted landmark properties that were prime candidates for listing in the NRHP. Many of the high-quality photographs are available online at The Portal to Texas History, which can be accessed at: https://texashistory.unt.edu/search/?q=Tarrant+County&t=fulltext&fq=dc_type%3Aimage%2A&fq=untl_collection%3ATHCHS.
- HPCTC – The Historic Preservation Council of Tarrant County conducted a series of historic resources surveys throughout the county between 1982 and 1991. Hard copies of the reports are available at the THC, Historic Fort Worth, Inc., the Tarrant County Office of Historic Preservation and Archives, as well as municipal libraries, and local government offices throughout the county. The Tarrant County Office of Historic Preservation and Archives has a digital copy, which is available online at: <https://www.tarrantcounty.com/en/tarrant-county-archives/holdings/named-collections/h/historic-preservation-council-for-tarrant-county.html>.
- Arlington CLG – With funding from the THC's CLG program, the City of Arlington conducted its own historic resources survey in 1987 and updated the survey in 2007. The Texas Historic Sites Atlas includes information from the 2007 survey update. The City of Arlington has posted the survey online, which is available at: https://www.arlingtontx.gov/UserFiles/Servers/Server_14481062/File/City%20Hall/Depts/Office%20of%20Strategic%20Initiatives/Landmark%20Preservation%20Commission/ Historic%20Resources%20Survey%20Update%202007.pdf.
- Bankhead Highway – a THC-sponsored survey that documented historic roadside-related resources (gas stations, hotels, tourist courts, motels, etc.) along the Bankhead Highway, a transcontinental roadway that extended from Washington, DC to San Diego, CA. The route passed through Texas and roughly paralleled modern-day Interstate Highway (IH) 20 and IH 30. The route extended east–west through the center of Tarrant County. Information from the survey, which was completed in 2012, is available online at: <https://www.thc.texas.gov/historic-highways/bankhead-highway/explore-bankhead-highway>.
- Meridian Highway – a THC-sponsored survey that documented historic roadside-related resources along a major north–south runway that extended across much of the country's mid-section and ran from Canada to Mexico. The Meridian Highway extended north–south through the heart of Tarrant County and roughly parallels present-day IH 35 West. The survey results, which were presented in 2014, are available online at: www.thc.texas.gov/historic-highways/meridian-highway/explore-meridian-highway.

Appendix D: Preservation Toolkit

Appendix D: Preservation Toolkit

Preservation is a multi-layered and complex field that is built upon a variety of programs and policies. It relies on individuals with a wide range of experience and includes people from many areas of expertise and fields from history and architecture to planning, finance, and public policy. Indeed, preservation means different things to different people, all of whom desire to pursue certain actions suited to their particular needs that fall under the broad heading of “historic preservation.”

Empowering people with tools and guidance to learn more about specific steps helps ensure the advancement of preservation in Tarrant County. This toolkit aims to answer common questions encountered when beginning a preservation project. The sources of information within the toolkit represent some of the most reliable, common, and relevant tools available – written in accessible language and intended for both professional preservationists and the general public. These sources of information aim to help anyone interested in beginning a preservation project from designation to tax incentives to the nuts-and-bolts of maintaining historic buildings. A guide for navigating the toolkit is presented below in table D-1.

Table D-1. Guide for navigating this toolkit (Appendix D). Note that the “Question” column provides a hyperlink to the relevant section.

A note about online sources

In the modern era, the internet functions as the primary means for most people to conduct research and obtain information, and this resource can be accessed from the comfort and convenience of homes or workplaces. A few keystrokes at a search engine website, such as Google, will identify seemingly countless sources of information about a variety of both general and specific preservation topics. The results, however, may be overwhelming. To that end, this appendix provides guidance to learn about some of the most common preservation-related activities.

Please note that the sources and internet links (underlined blue text) in this appendix functioned at the time this report was prepared. These links may change over time. If the hyperlinks do not function, please use an internet search engine such as Google using appropriate key words or contact the program or sponsor for the appropriate subject.

1. HOW DO I CONTACT THE TARRANT COUNTY HISTORIC PRESERVATION OFFICE AND CLG?

Current contact information for the Tarrant County Office of Historic Preservation and Archives is provided below.

- Current phone number: 817-884-3272

- Current website: <https://www.tarrantcounty.com/en/tarrant-county-archives.html>
- Current mailing address: Plaza Building, 200 Taylor Street, Fort Worth, TX 76196

2. HOW DO I DETERMINE IF A PROPERTY IS ALREADY A DESIGNATED AS HISTORIC?

Begin by checking to see if buildings have already been designated historic.

- Refer to the inventory that appears in Appendix B of this report. The appendix identifies known designated historic properties from multiple sources. Since it was compiled for this preservation plan, with time, the inventory is subject to change once new properties are subject to designation. Follow the steps below to check for updates.
- Refer to the searchable inventory provided through the Tarrant County Archives web pages: <http://www.tarrantcounty.com/en/tarrant-county-archives/holdings/named-collections/h/historic-preservation-council-for-tarrant-county.html>.
- Refer to your local municipality.
- Contact the Tarrant County Historic Preservation and Archives Officer (contact information above).
- Explore the *Texas Historic Sites Atlas*¹ website that the Texas Historic Commission maintains to show previous historic designations. The Atlas is a GIS-based interface that plots the locations of most state-designated historic properties. The information can be viewed on a map or listed by name and address by searching keywords and applicable designation(s).
 - For NHLs, the Atlas has a predefined filter that can be viewed at the following website: <https://atlas.thc.texas.gov/AdvancedSearch/NHLIndex>
 - For NRHP listings, the Atlas has a predefined filter that can be further refined by selecting “Tarrant” from the box identified “County” or by any other relevant search parameter, such as “City.” To initiate this search, view the following website: <https://atlas.thc.texas.gov/AdvancedSearch>
- Contact the Tarrant County Historical Commission² for state historical marker listings and applications that are pending or are in the process of being prepared.
 - Check the Tarrant County Historical Commission’s website at the following: <https://www.tarrantcounty.com/en/tarrant-county-historical-commission/contact-information.html>
 - For an easy-to-access list of markers in Tarrant County maintained by an independent source, go to: <http://sites.rootsweb.com/~txtarran/historical00.htm>
- Contact the local historic preservation office for local landmarks (see Appendix E)

3. HOW CAN I LEARN ABOUT MUNICIPAL PRESERVATION POLICIES IN TARRANT COUNTY?

Several city governments have active historic preservation programs or some type of zoning or land-use controls that deal with preservation.

- An alphabetical list of cities in Appendix E examines a variety of topics that deal with historic preservation, including, but not limited to, ordinances, landmark designations, design guidelines, tax incentives, and grants.

4. HOW DO I SEEK APPROPRIATE HISTORIC DESIGNATION FOR A PROPERTY?

Owners of historic properties can choose from a variety of designations issued at the national, state, and local levels. Appendix B contains a comprehensive listing of the incorporated municipalities in the county and assesses their respective preservation-related initiatives. Of the 41 cities in the county, those with most robust preservation programs with some type of landmark designation authority include:

5. HOW DO I TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PRESERVATION TAX INCENTIVES?

All levels of government have some type of tax-based incentives to encourage historic preservation, primarily as tax credits. Property owners must adhere to the particular requirements of each program, and coordination with reviewing staff at the earliest possible stage of any rehabilitation will greatly improve the chances of success and ensure compliance. As possible, seek out advice and preliminary input from reviewing authorities during early planning phases before the project gets too far along to avoid or minimize costly modifications and/or delays to adhere to applicable provisions.

- The NPS offers guidance about the federal tax credit program, which is a collaborative effort that the NPS undertakes with State Historic Preservations Offices, such as the THC.
 - Tax Incentives for Preserving Historic Properties – describes the program at the federal level; for a brochure that summarizes the incentives, go to: <https://www.nps.gov/tps/tax-incentives/taxdocs/about-tax-incentives-2012.pdf>

6. WHERE CAN I FIND INFORMATION ABOUT THE ECONOMIC BENEFITS OF PRESERVATION?

Various studies have examined the many economic benefits of historic preservation and the way in which it has supported economic development and revitalization efforts across the nation. The THC has been a national leader in the development of detailed analyses that examine the subject in quantitative and data-driven terms. In addition, other national preservation-advocacy groups have also undertaken similar studies that showcase how successful historic preservation can be as a positive force in economic development and revitalization. The following are samples of some of the best known and relevant studies that have been undertaken in recent years

- The THC has prepared multiple studies to examine how historic preservation has contributed to the state and local economies.
 - In 2015, the THC published “Economic Impact of Historic Preservation in Texas,” which documented more than $4.6 billion in annual GDP and more than 79,000 jobs that can be attributed to historic preservation. To view the report, go to: <https://www.thc.texas.gov/public/upload/publications/economic-impact-historic-preservation.pdf>
 - “Historic Preservation at Work for the Texas Economy” is a publication that examines the economic impact of historic preservation in Texas. In 1999, the THC along with multiple cities including the City of Grapevine, as well as the Grapevine Heritage Foundation, funded the study – one of the early and most comprehensive efforts on the topic in the nation. The report is posted at the THC’s website and can viewed at the following location: https://www.thc.texas.gov/public/upload/publications/EconImpact_wnote.pdf

7. WHERE CAN I FIND TECHNICAL INFORMATION AND GUIDANCE ABOUT HOW TO APPROPRIATELY REHABILITATE A HISTORIC PROPERTY?

Knowing how to undertake projects that are respectful to the qualities and character of historic buildings is a popular topic among private property owners, public officials, developers, architects, contractors, and others. The following represent some of the best-known publications that provide technical guidance to ensure that work is undertaken in a manner that is consistent with widely accepted preservation guidelines and standards and in compliance with tax-based incentives.

The NPS maintains a website entitled "Historic Preservation Standards and Guidelines" that provides critical guidance for those in both the public and private sectors to undertake a variety of preservation-related projects. For more information, please go to: <https://www.nps.gov/subjects/historicpreservation/standards.htm>

- The Secretary of the Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties have provided the most complete and thorough guidance for preservation-related work on historic buildings. They offer broad strategies to ensure that these buildings retain their most important and salient physical qualities. They provide a degree of flexibility to consider the countless subtle and sometimes not-so-subtle issues that property owners, architects, contractors, and those in the building trades may encounter. Moreover, the standards are designed to ensure that buildings can be adapted to modern uses and conveniences. A copy of the document can be viewed at: <https://www.nps.gov/tps/standards/treatment-guidelines-2017.pdf>
- The Technical Services Branch of the NPS has prepared a series of Preservation Briefs that provide detailed guidance on the preservation, rehabilitation, and restoration of historic buildings. The briefs include topics involved with specific architectural features, finishes, and materials as well as additions, signage, HVAC systems and landscapes. A selected list of the 50 published

Preservation Briefs is presented in table D-4. For a complete list, go to: <https://www.nps.gov/tps/how-to-preserve/briefs.htm>

The Technical Services Branch of NPS also has developed a set of Interpreting the Standards Bulletins, aimed to clarify interpretation of the Secretary's Standards for common rehabilitation issues. A full list of Interpreting the Standards Bulletins is available at: <https://www.nps.gov/tps/standards/applying-rehabilitation/standards-bulletins.htm>

8. WHERE CAN I FIND INFORMATION ABOUT THE SUSTAINABILITY OF HISTORIC PRESERVATION?

A common adage among preservationists is that “the greenest building is the one that isn’t in the landfill.” Many historic buildings were designed with intrinsically sustainable features, like passive heating and cooling. In addition, historic buildings embody generations’ worth of energy used for construction and maintenance – energy that would be lost and then have to be recreated in a demolition and reconstruction project. A number of preservation organizations have published information documenting the sustainability features of historic buildings, as set forth below.

9. HOW CAN I APPLY FOR GRANTS AND FINANCIAL AID FOR PRESERVATION PROJECTS?

Most of the financial assistance for preservation is based on a market-driven approach that offers tax-based incentives to help offset rehabilitation costs. However, some grants are available to the public, but keep in mind that this funding source is limited and highly competitive. Moreover, grants typically are allocated for projects that fit within narrow parameters and support a particular strategic or long-term goal.

Seek CLG grants from the THC. Tarrant County is eligible for such funding. For more information, go to: <https://www.thc.texas.gov/preserve/projects-and-programs/certified-local-government/grant-information>

- If your local municipality does not have CLG status, consider applying for CLG status, taking advantage of the resources below to guide the process:

- Seek funding for a local Main Street Program. For more information, go to: https://www.thc.texas.gov/public/upload/publications/Funding_a_Local_Main_Street_Program_2013_version.pdf
- Contact the Tarrant County Economic Development staff⁶ to discuss using funds from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) or Hotel Occupancy Tax funds. For more information, go to: <https://www.tarrantcounty.com/en/commissioner-3/programs-and-initiatives/economic-development.html>
- Seek a grant from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program, a federal initiative that allocates money to local governments to undertake projects designed to meet the needs of each community. CDBG monies are often used for local housing departments and often target residences in older neighborhoods. A guide from HUD shows “historic preservation can be linked to other eligible activity under Community Development Block Grant Program. The publication focuses on the broad range of historic preservation activity that may be assisted under the CDBG program, not only to save historic structures but to use them in promoting economic development, neighborhood revitalization and the conservation of energy resources as well.” For more information, go to: <https://www.hudexchange.info/resources/documents/historic-preservation-in-housing-and-community-development.pdf>
- The NTHP offers funds to “encourage preservation at the local level by providing seed money for preservation projects.” For more information, go to: <https://savingplaces.org/grants>
- Seek the African American Cultural Heritage Action Fund, sponsored by the NTHP, which awards funds for interpreting and preserving African American cultural heritage. For more information, go to: <https://savingplaces.org/african-american-cultural-heritage/updates/grants-now-available-african-american-cultural-heritage-action-fund>
- Seek grants from other sources from the THC’s “Resource and Guide for Grants and Fundraising,” which includes informational instructions as well as specific grant opportunities. For more information, go to: <http://www.thc.texas.gov/preserve/projects-and-programs/museum-assistance/grants-funding>
- Seek a grant from your municipal government, where applicable:
 - The City of Grapevine has a matching grant program in place for the exterior revitalization of historic residences in the Township area. Grants are awarded on a 2-to-1 matching basis up to $10,000 for owner-occupied homes and a 1-to-1 matching basis up to $5,000 for residential rental houses. For more information, go to: <https://www.grapevintexas.gov/Faq.aspx?QID=77>

The City of Mansfield makes matching grant funding available for owner-occupant residential uses ($10,000 maximum with a half match) and rental residential uses ($5,000 maximum, full match). Grants are limited to historic homes in existing historic districts or homes determined to be eligible for landmark designation by the Mansfield Historic Landmarks Commission (MHLC). The residence must be located within the boundaries of the original town of Mansfield. For more information, go to: <https://www.mansfieldtx.as.gov/1167/Historic-Preservation>

10. HOW CAN I PARTICIPATE IN THE SECTION 106 CONSULTATION PROCESS FOR FEDERAL PROJECTS?

When crafting the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, congress included a provision (Section 106 of the act) that mandated public involvement on federally funded, permitted, or licensed projects that have the potential to have an effect on historic properties. This provision has since become known as the Section 106 Process and is a routine step that agencies such as the Texas Department of Transportation and the US Army Corps of Engineers undertake on a regular basis.

- The ACHP has been active in assisting with the Section 106 Process and has sought to encourage greater public outreach to sponsors of projects that trigger Section 106 reviews, as well as engagement of the general public to encourage their input and participation on project review and comment. The ACHP provides a summary of the Four-Step Review Process associated with the Section 106 Process as a handout that can be downloaded at the following website: <https://www.achp.gov/sites/default/files/2019-10/106%20Flow%20Chart%20Handout.pdf>
 - “A Citizen’s Guide to Section 106 Review” is a publication that the ACHP prepared to explain the Section 106 Process to the public. It is written in non-technical and easy-to-understand terms and provides useful sources of information for reference and education. A copy is available at: <https://www.achp.gov/sites/default/files/documents/2017-01/CitizenGuide.pdf>
 - ACHP Section 106 Classroom Courses² lists workshops and seminars that are open to those in both the public and private sectors to learn more about the Section 106 Process.
- The National Preservation Institute (NPI) offers training on a variety of topics for those involved in the management, preservation and stewardship of cultural heritage. Their website “Protecting the Past Through Preservation”⁸ identifies opportunities to attend regional workshops, including those devoted to Section 106, that are held across the nation.

11. HOW CAN I LEARN MORE ABOUT THE ROLE OF ARCHEOLOGY IN THE PRESERVATION PROCESS IN TEXAS?

- The Texas Historical Commission leads archeology efforts in Texas. A table listing archeological resources published by the Texas Historical Commission is presented in table D-7.
- The Texas Historical Commission helps organize a network of volunteer “Archeological Stewards” across the state. To find a steward near you, contact the THC’s Archeology Division by calling (512) 463-6096, or write to Archeology Division, Texas Historical Commission, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, TX 78711-2276.

BEDFORD

Ordinance	No
Tax Benefits	No
Penalties	No
Staffing and Information Access	No commission, city council and code compliance info available online.

Current Local Ordinance and Code Information:

Bedford has no HP ordinance, but like many smaller municipalities the language of some ordinances refers to possible exemptions or considerations for historic properties.

Bedford's Code Compliance homepage has the following language:

- Code Compliance programs achieve not only their primary goals of improved health, safety and welfare of the community, but are utilized to enhance other programs and efforts such as historic preservation, rehabilitation, and revitalization. In order to establish an efficient system of code compliance, Code Compliance Officers operate under set guidelines for the receipt of complaints, investigations and inspections, and citation issuance.
<https://www.bedfordtx.gov/173/Code-Compliance>

Like other towns with no HP Ordinance, there are references to exceptions or considerations for Historic Buildings:

- Article III Design Manual – Section 96 restricts network providers from installing unsightly equipment in Historic Districts or Design Districts:
 - Network provider shall comply with and observe all applicable city, state, and federal historic preservation laws and requirements.
 - Network provider is discouraged from installing a network node or node support pole within 300 feet of a historic site or structure or historic landmark recognized by the city, state or federal government. [Section 96-103 details preferred locations, which are not adjacent to parks, residential areas, historic districts...]
 - The city council may designate an area as a historic district at any time. An area does not need to be designated by this chapter to be considered to be within a historic district. Such designation does not require a zoning case. Any area declared to be a historic district by the city council or any area that meets the definition of historic district shall be subject to all requirements and protections for a historic district.
- Article II – Flood Damage Prevention – Section 62-46 – This language is very similar if not exactly similar to other cities code language regarding floodplain exemptions.
 - “Variances may be issued for the reconstruction, rehabilitation or restoration of structures listed on the National Register of Historic Places or the State Inventory of Historic Places, without regard to the procedures set forth in the remainder of this article.”
 - “Variances may be issued for the repair or rehabilitation of historic structures upon a determination that the proposed repair or rehabilitation will not preclude the structure's continued designation as a historic structure and the variance is the minimum necessary to preserve the historic character and design of the structure.”

The 2010 Comprehensive Land Use Plan (full document in the Gathered Documents Folder)

- Document argues that most of Bedford’s buildings were constructed after World War II and beyond, and states that planning effort “should be addressed to the historic contribution of Bedford Road to the City’s heritage.” Sites along the road to be considered include:
 - Old Bedford School (NRHP)
 - Fitch General Store and Well
 - Old Fire Station
 - Bedford Road Cemetery
 - Northeast Tarrant County Civil War Memorial
- “actions precipitated by the Comprehensive Plan should include a designation of Historical Significance of the Bedford Road Corridor from Forest Ridge Drive to Park Place Blvd. Within this area construction and demolition should first be preceded by a report of historic significance of the area. In addition, any development may be regulated in nature of construction such that it is compatible with the heritage of the corridor.”

Organizations, Administration, Etc.

The Bedford Historical Foundation led efforts to restore the Old Bedford School. The group donated its records and materials to the Tarrant County Archives.

Benbrook's ordinances define a historic structure with language similar to many other ordinances. The Benbrook Comprehensive Plan does make mention of making Historic Preservation a priority in the future, but there are no current laws or ordinances at the local level. The plan does have a good historic context in Chapter 2 (downloaded to the gathered documents folder).

Like other cities/municipalities, Benbrook makes mention of historic structures in their ordinances without having a formal HP ordinance, defining historic structures and including possible variances for those properties:

- Historic structure means any structure that is:
 - A. Listed individually in the National Register of Historic Places (a listing maintained by the U.S. Department of Interior) or preliminarily determined by the Secretary of the Interior as meeting the requirements for individual listing on the National Register; or

Penalties	No
Staffing and Information Access	Historical Preservation Committee meetings held quarterly or as needed, members and contact info listed online.

The Land Development Code does not seem to have any reference or plan for local historic designations or preservation plans.

The Comprehensive Plan puts a heavy emphasis on preserving neighborhood character, but there is no framework for that goal or its enforcement.

The Architectural Review Commission² has no reference to preservation or historic structures/sites in its mission, but is said to “act in an advisory capacity and makes recommendations to City Council regarding the evaluation of matching grant program applications for facade improvements and/or pole signage replacements; evaluates the quality and effectiveness of Colleyville's Commercial Design Standards; evaluates and makes recommendations regarding future design guidelines; and conducts other architectural and design-related studies, as requested by City Council.”

“Variances [to the rules of the Floodplain Chapter] may be issued for the reconstruction, rehabilitation or restoration of structures listed on the National Register of Historic Places or the state inventory of historic places without regard to the procedures set forth in the remainder of this chapter. Variances may be issued for the repair or rehabilitation of historic structures upon a determination that the proposed repair or rehabilitation will not preclude the structure's continued designation as a historic structure and the variance is the minimum necessary to preserve the historic character and design of the structure.” – Chapter 38: Floods, Section 38.47 Variance Procedures

Historic Structures are defined with a standard definition (same as Sansom Park below).
- Article 5 – Permitted Uses:¹³ Specific use permits
 - “Certain land uses, because of their nature and location, are not appropriate for categorizing into installations, such as colleges and universities, institutions, community facilities, zoos, cemeteries, country clubs, show grounds, drive-in theaters and other unusual land uses not specifically provided for in this chapter. To provide for the proper handling and location of such specific uses, provision is made for amending this chapter to grant a permit for a specific use in a specific location.”
 - “A specific use permit shall not be recommended for approval by the planning and zoning commission unless the commission finds that all of the following conditions have been found to exist: ...
 - (3) The benefits that the city gains from the proposed use outweigh the loss of or damage to any homes, business, natural resources, agricultural lands, historical or cultural landmarks or sites, wildlife habitats, parks, or natural, scenic, or historical features of significance, and outweigh the personal and economic cost of any disruption to the lives, business and property of individuals affected by the proposed use.”
- Though not represented in an ordinance, the Economic Development Department¹⁴ page states:
 - “The Economic Development Department assists the citizens of Saginaw in shaping the city's future, based on a shared community vision. - Like many other municipalities, the Southlake Code of Ordinances includes language that allows variances for the restoration of structures listed on the NRHP or considered a registered historic district. It also has language in ordinances discussing oil pipelines and drilling:
 - “Where the city council determines it is not feasible for a new or relocated unregulated pipeline to be located within an established pipeline corridor within private residential areas, the unregulated pipeline must... (3) Avoid areas of unique recreational or aesthetic importance, environmentally sensitive areas and areas of historical or cultural significance.”
- Rural Conservation Subdivision Zoning District

This is the most specific language for zoning something as a historic resource, but primarily focuses on preserving Southlake’s agricultural/rural character. The District must be 20 acres or greater.

- Southlake 2035 Vision (Comprehensive Plan) was adopted by the City Council in 2017.

 - Consolidated Future Land Use Plan includes the North Texas 2050 Guiding Principles: “Quality Places – Strengthen the identities of the region’s diverse communities through preservation of significant historic structures and natural assets, creation of new landmarks and gathering spaces, use of compatible architectural and landscape design, and support for the activities and institutions that make each community unique.”

Organizations, Administration, etc.

“Network provider is discouraged from installing a network node or node support pole within 300 feet of a historic site or structure or historic landmark recognized by the town, state or federal government (see, for example, and not limited to V.T.C.A., Government Code § 442.001(3), and 16 U.S.C. § 470), as of the date of the submission of the permit.”

“As a condition for approval of network nodes or node support poles in design districts with decorative poles or in a historic district, concealment measures are required for network nodes or node support poles or related ground equipment or any portion of the nodes, poles, or equipment. Said concealment measures shall minimize the impact to the aesthetics in a historic district or design district.”

Appendix F: Identified Potential Historic Resources

Appendix F: Identified Potential Historic Resources

Appendix F includes tables of properties identified during development of the survey plan, including two tables of properties that are recommended to be targeted during a comprehensive windshield-level survey of unincorporated Tarrant County (tables F-1 and F-2) and a table of properties across Tarrant County for which further cultural landscape/rural historic landscape/agricultural complex analysis is recommended (table F-3). In addition to the properties in these tables, the unincorporated Tarrant County sections of the HPCTC survey series should be reviewed, cross-checked against the THC Atlas, and compiled into lists of “previously surveyed resources” and “potentially NRHP-eligible resources” and digitally mapped. Prior to conducting reconnaissance-level documentation, properties for which right-of-entry is required to assess potential historical significance should be joined in GIS to current Tarrant Appraisal District (TAD) data to identify property owners.

In each of the tables below, “TAXPIN” refers to the unique identifier assigned to each parcel by TAD, “Site Address” is the property’s physical address as listed in TAD, and “Min. TAD Date” is the earliest construction date on record with the appraisal district for the property.

Appendix G: Customized Survey Recommendations for Specific Municipalities in Tarrant County

Appendix G: Customized Survey Recommendations for Specific Municipalities in Tarrant County

This appendix presents the customized survey recommendations for municipalities in Tarrant County. The municipalities are arranged in alphabetical order. Cities that extend beyond Tarrant County into an adjacent county (or counties) are noted with an asterisk after the city name heading. For these cities, the information outlined in this section relates only to the land within Tarrant County.

For each city, a summary of previously designated or identified historic properties is presented, followed by an analysis of building and subdivision construction trends using Tarrant Appraisal District (TAD) construction dates. In consideration of this information, custom survey recommendations were developed. Overview figures illustrating the location of previously designated or identified historic properties and constructions trends are also provided for each city. Additionally, a corresponding geodatabase has also been provided to Tarrant County.

SUMMARY OF PREVIOUSLY DESIGNATED OR IDENTIFIED HISTORIC PROPERTIES

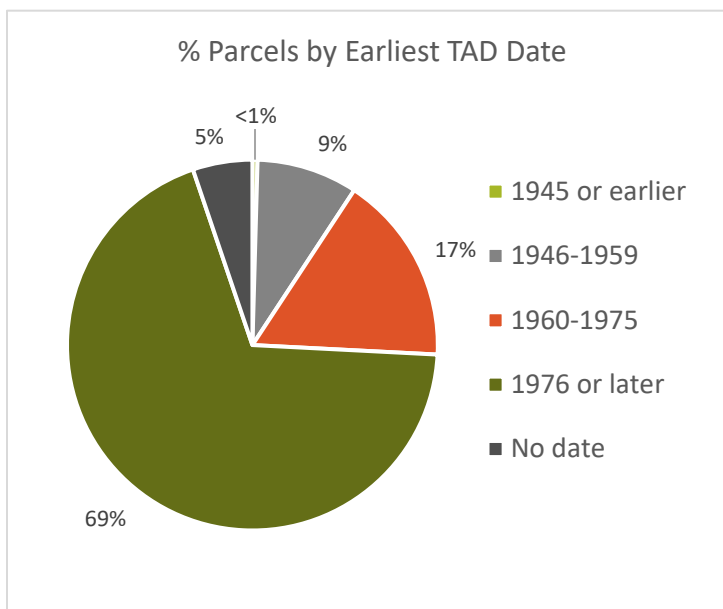

Property Type	#
Local landmarks	15
Previously surveyed properties	1,357
State Antiquities Landmarks	0
Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks	5
NRHP-eligible properties	9
NRHP-eligible districts	1
NRHP-listed properties	3
NRHP-listed districts	3

Notes: This table provides a summary of the main types of previously designated or identified historic properties rather than all types of previously designated or identified historic properties, which are depicted in the corresponding map below. Specifically, the table excludes Texas Historical Markers because their locations are frequently inaccurate in the THC’s Atlas data and may be depicted in the wrong municipality entirely. The NRHP-eligible properties and districts category refers to resources recommended eligible for the NRHP by qualified professionals or determined eligible for the NRHP by the THC. The previously surveyed properties category only includes properties that have been previously digitized in GIS.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION TRENDS

Earliest TAD Date	# Parcels
1945 or earlier	468
1946-1959	9,290
1960-1975	17,452
1976 or later	72,699
No date	5,480
Total	105,389

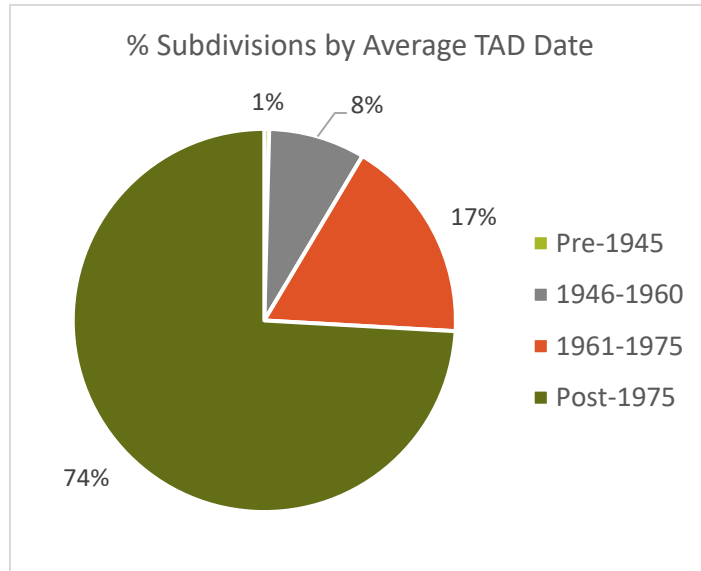

Notes: Building construction date reflects the earliest building improvement date for each parcel from TAD. Building construction dates from appraisal districts may be inaccurate and are used for preliminary analysis only. Professional architectural historians verify construction dates during fieldwork.

AVERAGE AGE OF SUBDIVISIONS

Average TAD Date	# Subdivisions
1945 or earlier	4
1946-1959	80
1960-1975	170

Notes: Includes subdivisions with 10 or more parcels. Average age reflects the average earliest building construction date (from TAD) for each parcel in a subdivision.

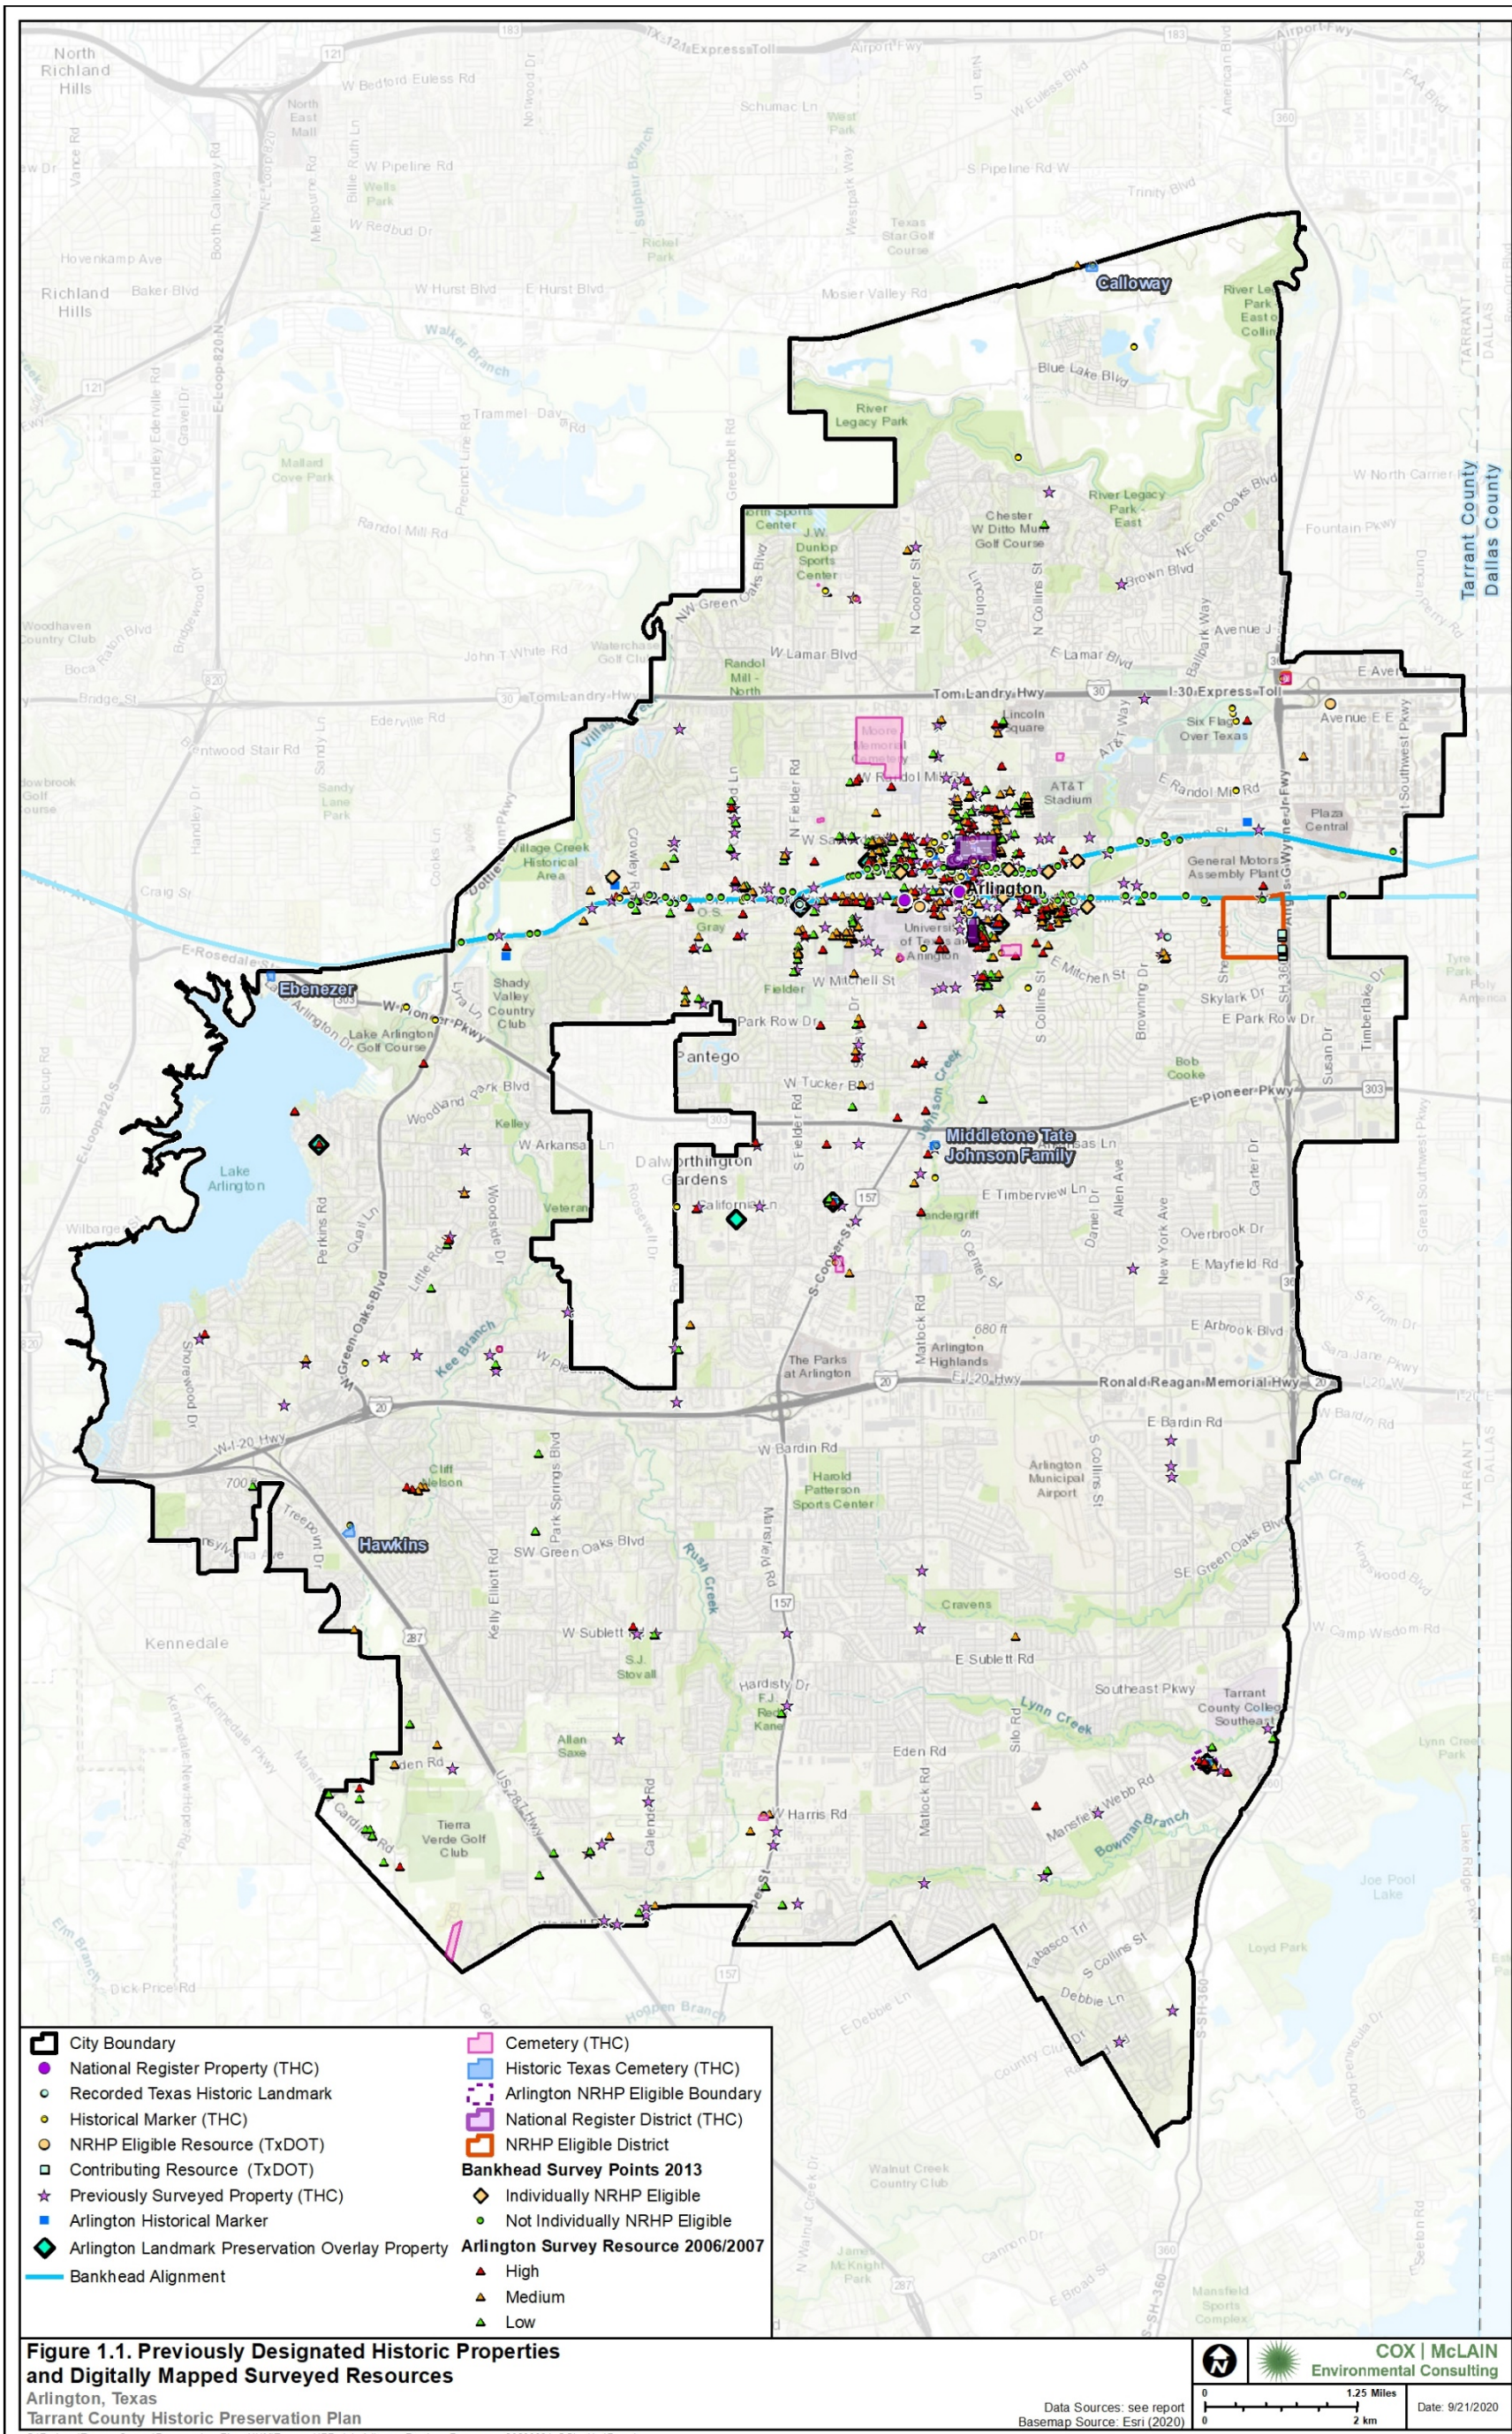

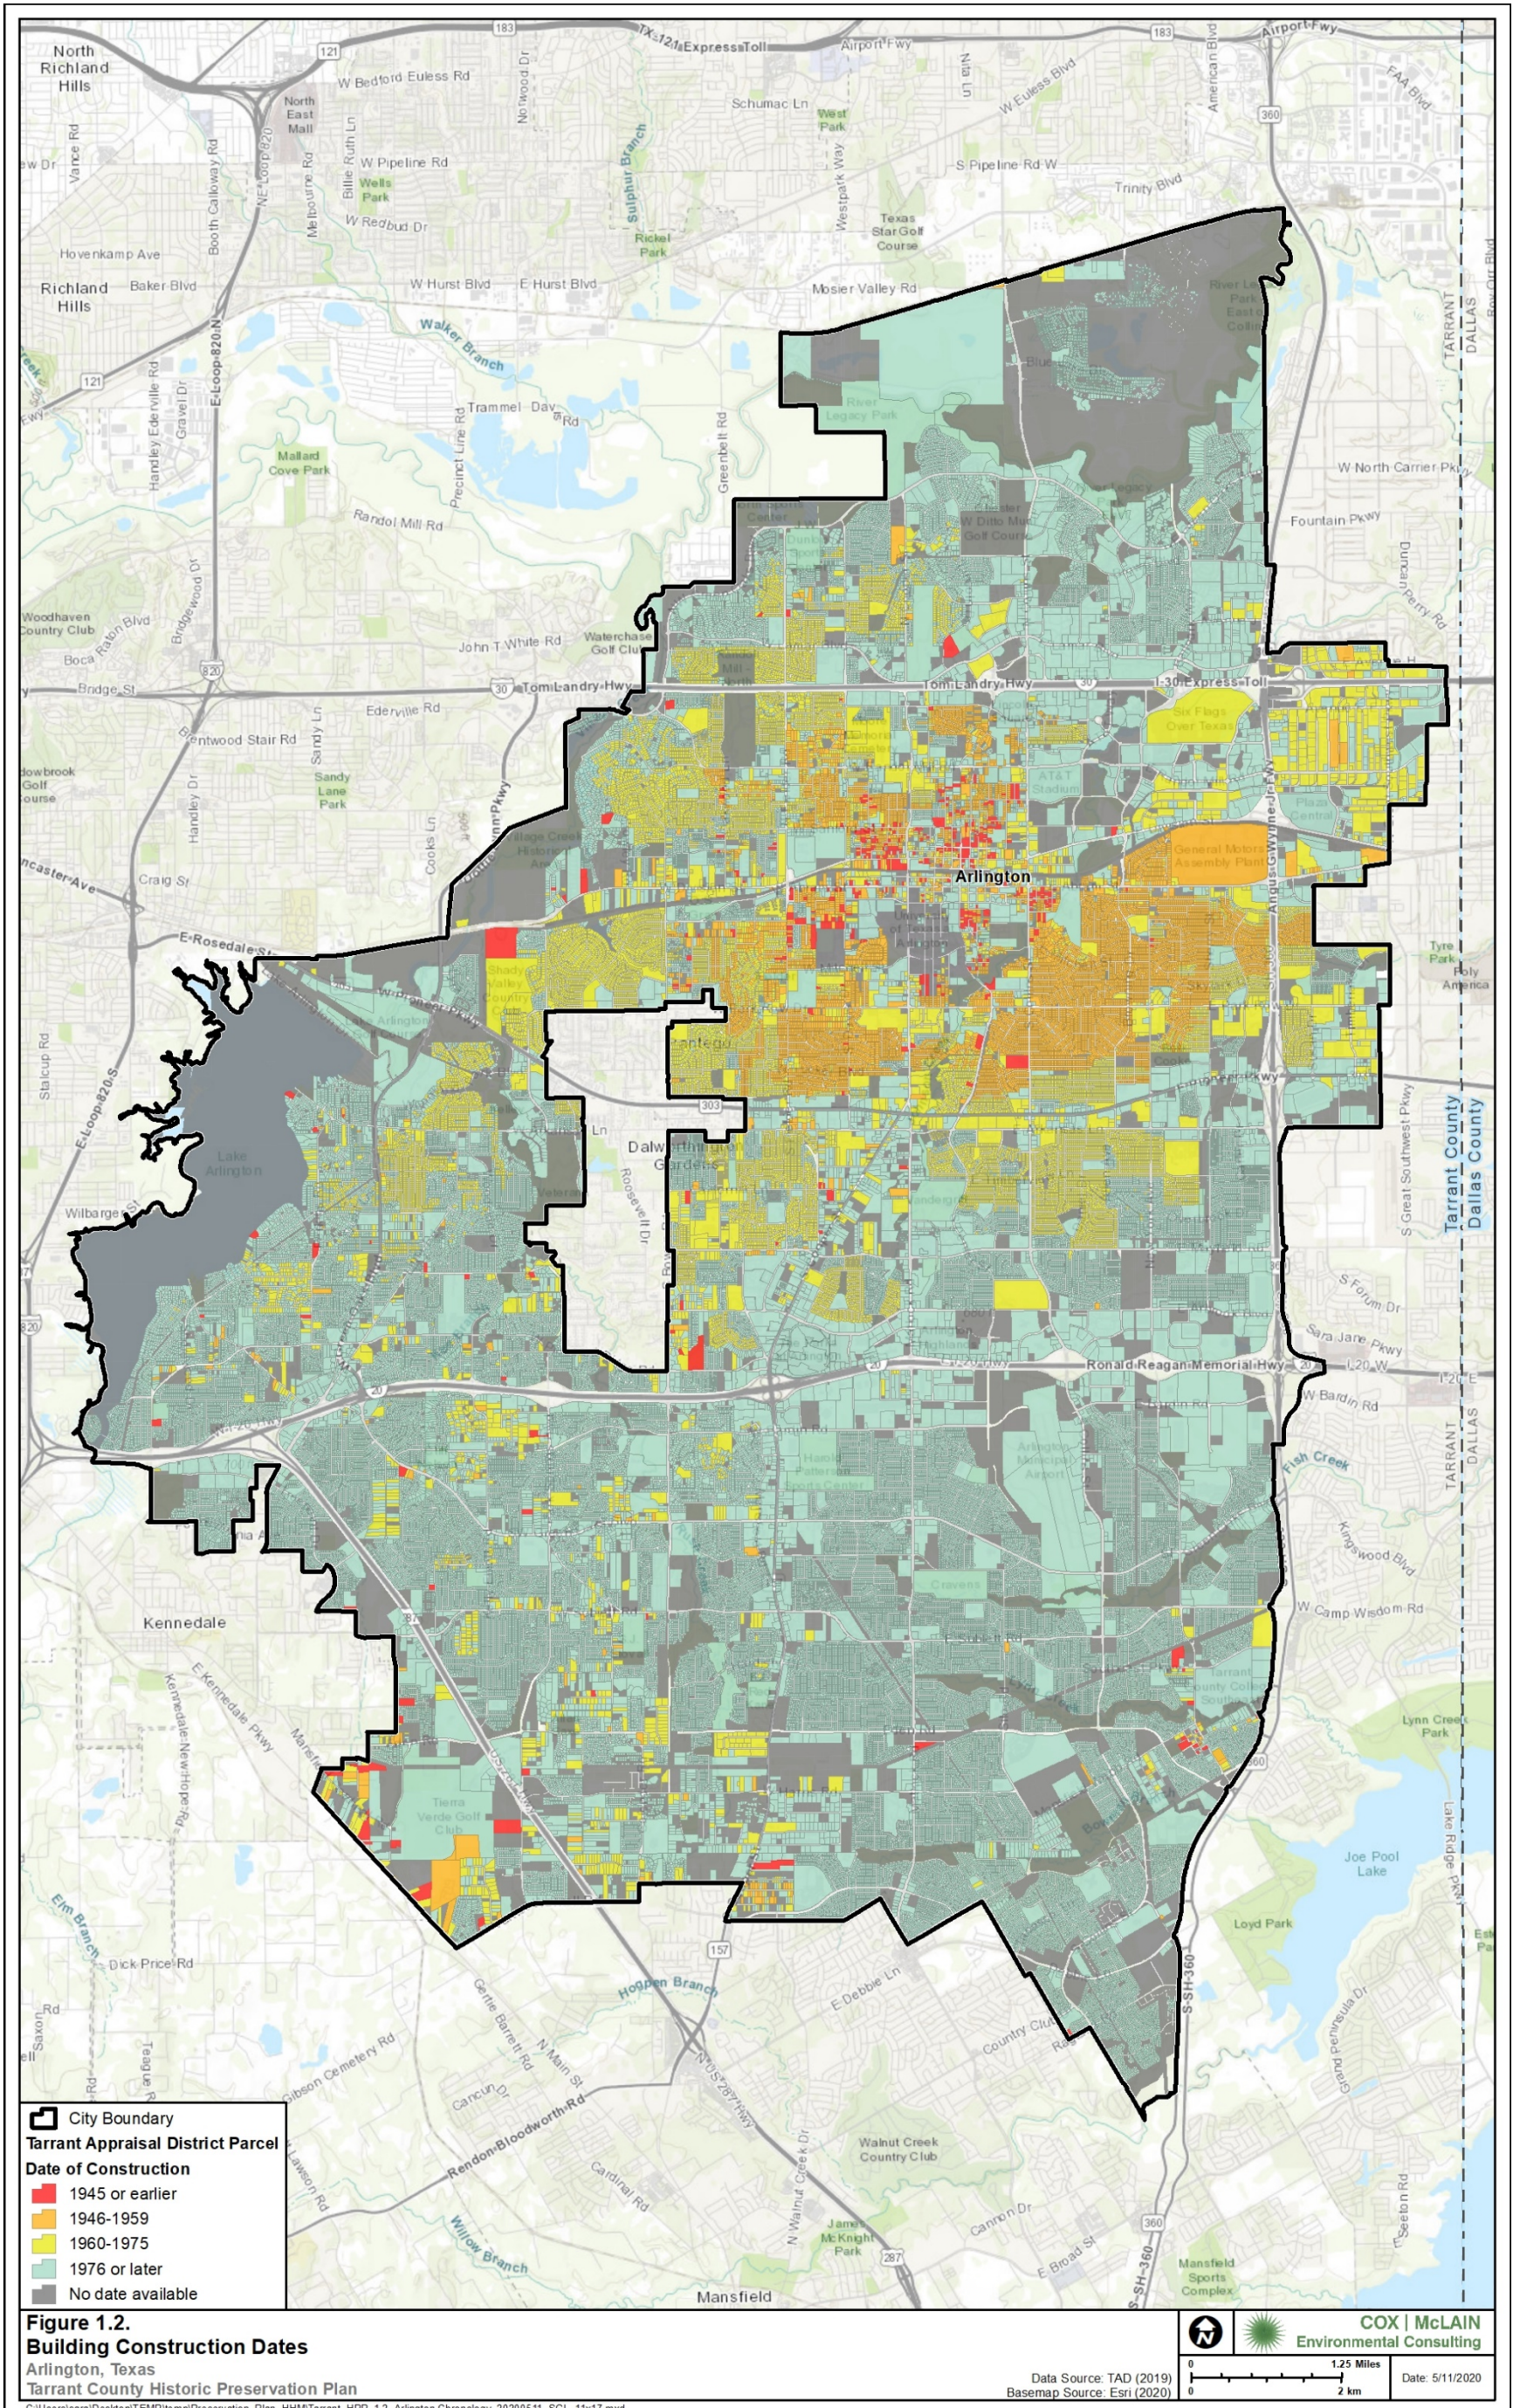

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Arlington)

- Review documentation of NRHP-eligible properties and districts, RTHLs, Arlington historical markers and overlays, and properties documented as high priority in the 2006/2007 Arlington survey and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation, as appropriate (Figure 1.1).
- Confirm the location of Texas Historical Markers and determine which markers commemorate extant and intact built resources (Figure 1.1).¹ Identify and document resources with high potential to be NRHP eligible.
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of the city’s pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (approximately 6-10 days of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP-eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the 468 properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the 254 subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 1.2 and 1.3). Twenty parcels with 10 or more acres and pre-1961 TAD dates should also be reviewed for cultural landscape potential. Additionally, city-owned properties should be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.

Prioritize documentation of local historic properties not recently documented since the city, as a CLG, is required to maintain an up-to-date inventory of historic resources.

¹ Texas Historical Markers commemorate diverse topics in Texas history, including the history and architecture of built resources or sites, historical events, and individuals who made important contributions to history. Some markers are associated with extant built resources or sites; others commemorate built resources or sites that no longer survive. Additionally, the mapped locations of markers from the THC database do not always reflect the actual locations of markers.

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Azle)

- Confirm the location of Texas Historical Markers in the city and determine which markers commemorate extant and intact built resources (Figure 2.1).² Identify and document resources with high potential to be NRHP eligible.
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of pre-1976 resources in the Tarrant County portion of the city (approximately 1 day of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the 85 properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the 17 subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 2.2 and 2.3). Four parcels with 10 or more acres and pre-1961 TAD dates should also be reviewed for cultural landscape potential. Additionally, city-owned properties should be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.
- For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Follow with windshield survey and reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible.

² Texas Historical Markers commemorate diverse topics in Texas history, including the history and architecture of built resources or sites, historical events, and individuals who made important contributions to history. Some markers are associated with extant built resources or sites; others commemorate built resources or sites that no longer survive.  - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the parcels with pre-1960 TAD dates and subdivision with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 5.2 and 5.3). City-owned properties should also be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.

- Review documentation of the RTHL and locally listed resources and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation, as appropriate (Figure 7.1).
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of the city’s pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (approximately 1-2 days of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP-eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Fort Worth)

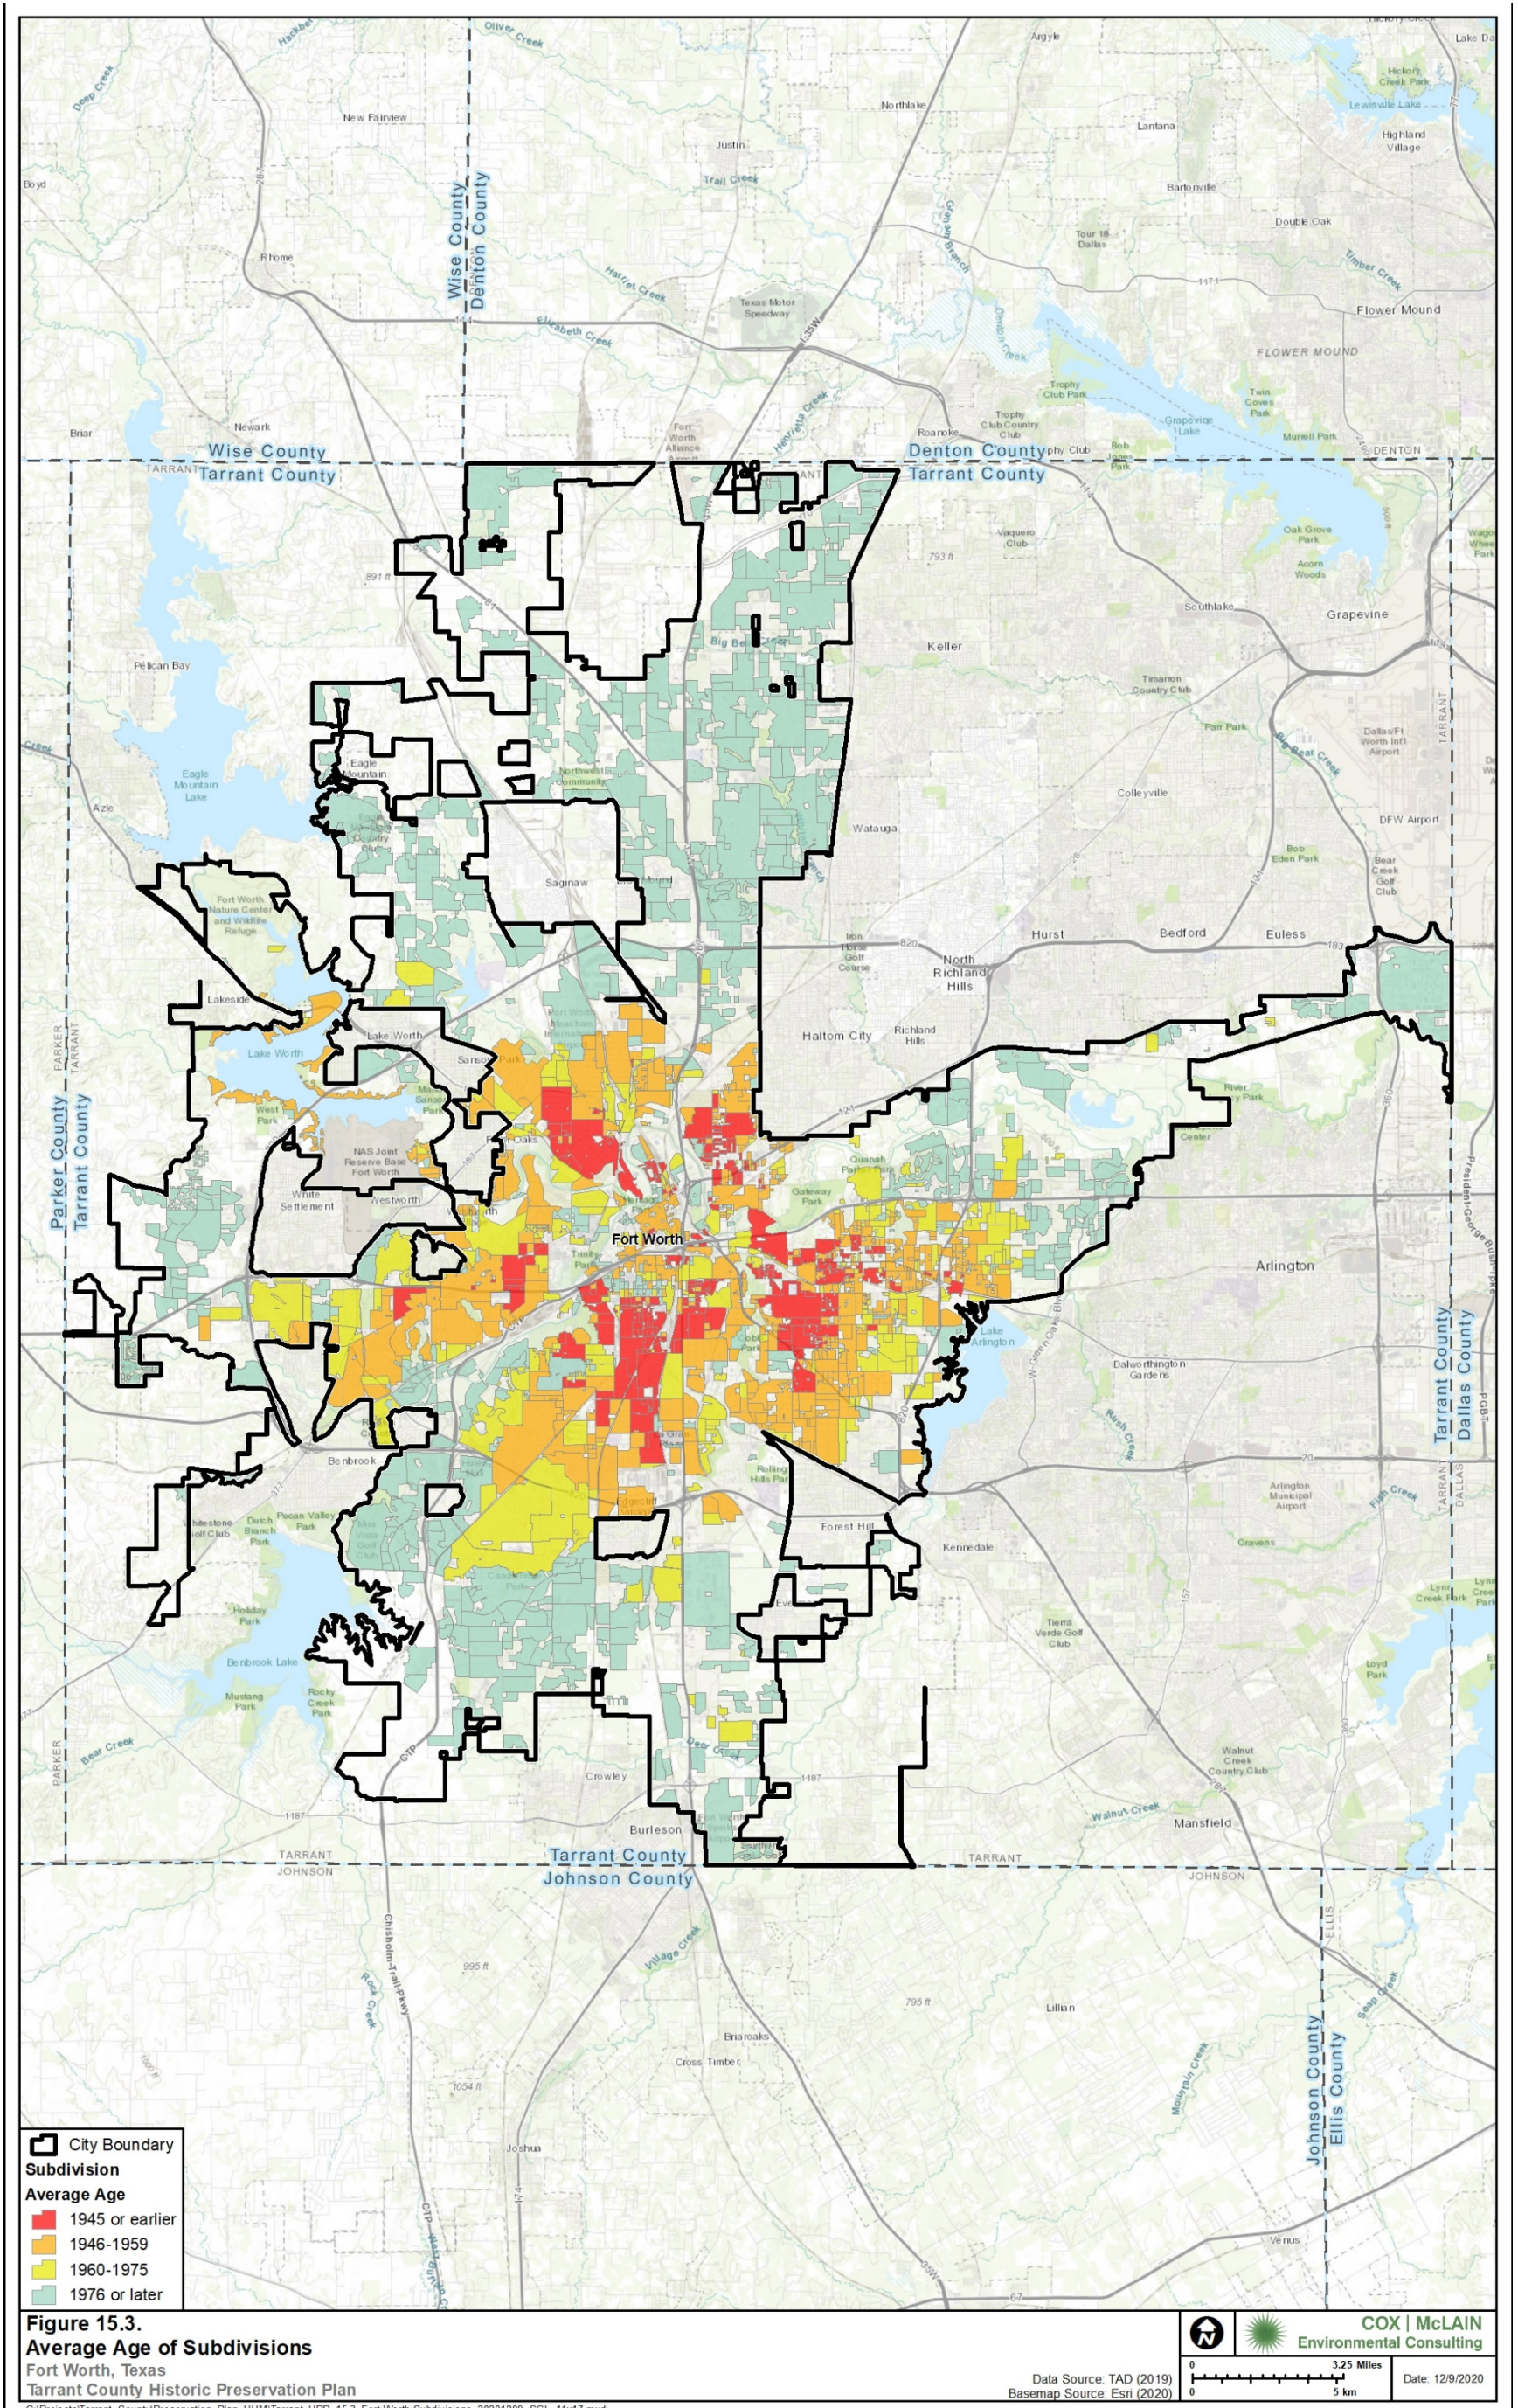

- Review documentation of NRHP-eligible properties and districts, RTHLs, SALs, Fort Worth landmarks and districts, and properties documented as high priority in previous surveys and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation, as appropriate (Figure 15.1).
- Review documentation of NRHP and NRHP-eligible properties and districts, RTHLs, SALs, and properties documented as high priority in previous surveys and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue local landmark/district designation, as appropriate (Figure 15.1.).
- Prepare for, develop systems, and solicit funding to support a multi-year, phased survey documentation project, including consultation with consultants experienced in citywide survey methodologies and development of a citywide thematic historic context statement, a GIS-based platform for collecting and managing survey data, and a public involvement plan, among other tasks.
- Divide city into geographic segments (each segment may comprise multiple sub-segments) and develop a multi-year phased plan for documenting every segment, starting with a pilot segment.
 - Starting with the pilot segment, conduct a windshield survey of pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (excluding resources previously designated at the local or national level), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be eligible at the local and/or national level (to be documented on a unit-cost basis). Refine the methodology as needed and proceed with survey of additional segments. Complete windshield survey and reconnaissance documentation of each segment before moving on to the next.
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 15.2 and 15.3). Ninety-eight parcels with 10 or more acres and pre-1961 TAD dates should also be reviewed for cultural landscape potential. Additionally, city-owned properties should be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.

- For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Include these areas in the phased windshield/reconnaissance documentation project.

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Grand Prairie)

- Review documentation of NRHP-eligible resources in Grand Prairie and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation (Figure 16.1).
- Confirm the location of Texas Historical Markers in Grand Prairie and determine which markers commemorate extant and intact built resources (Figure 16.1).¹¹ Identify and document resources with high potential to be NRHP eligible.
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of the city’s pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (approximately 1 day of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the 5 properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the 15 subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 16.2 and 16.3). City-owned properties should also be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.
- For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Follow with windshield survey and reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible.

¹¹ Texas Historical Markers commemorate diverse topics in Texas history, including the history and architecture of built resources or sites, historical events, and individuals who made important contributions to history. Some markers are associated with extant built resources or sites; others commemorate built resources or sites that no longer survive. Additionally, the mapped locations of markers from the THC database do not always reflect the actual locations of markers.

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Grapevine)

- Confirm the location of the Texas Historical Markers in Grapevine and determine if they commemorate extant and intact built resources (Figure 17.1).¹² Document resources with high potential to be NRHP eligible.
- Review documentation of RTHLs and locally listed resources and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation, as appropriate (Figure 17.1).
- Standardize and consolidate existing survey and local landmark data into one database/GIS platform to facilitate preservation planning activities and incorporate future survey data.
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of the city’s pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (approximately 2 days of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the 162 properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the 18 subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 17.2 and 17.3). Seven parcels with 10 or more acres and pre-1961 TAD dates should also be reviewed for cultural landscape potential. Additionally, city-owned properties should be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.
- Prioritize documentation of local historic properties not recently documented since the city, as a CLG, is required to maintain an up-to-date inventory of historic resources. For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Follow with windshield survey and reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible.

- Review documentation of RTHL and determine additional research/documentation needed to pursue NRHP-designation, as appropriate (Figure 25.1).
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of the city’s pre-1976 parcels and parcels without a TAD date (approximately 2-3 days of fieldwork), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to the 250 properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and the 9 subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier (Figures 25.2 and 25.3). Seven parcels with 10 or more acres and pre-1961 TAD dates should also be reviewed for cultural landscape potential. Additionally, city-owned properties should be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.
- Prioritize documentation of local historic properties not recently documented since the city, as a CLG, is required to maintain an up-to-date inventory of historic resources. For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Follow with windshield survey and reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP-eligible.

¹⁸ Texas Historical Markers commemorate diverse topics in Texas history, including the history and architecture of built resources or sites, historical events, and individuals who made important contributions to history. Some markers are associated with extant built resources or sites; others commemorate built resources or sites that no longer survive. Additionally, the mapped locations of markers from the THC database do not always reflect the actual locations of markers.

Notes: This table provides a summary of the main types of previously designated or identified historic properties rather than all types of previously designated or identified historic properties, which are depicted in the corresponding map below. Specifically, the table excludes Texas Historical Markers because their locations are frequently inaccurate in the THC's Atlas data and may be depicted in the wrong municipality entirely. The previously surveyed properties category only includes properties that have been previously digitized in GIS.

Municipality-Specific Survey Recommendations (Trophy Club)

- For parts of the city outside Tarrant County, identify previously designated or identified historic properties and conduct appraisal district analysis similar to the analysis above. Prepare chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods.
- Develop preliminary thematic historic context statement and conduct windshield survey of entire city (both Tarrant and Denton County portions), followed by reconnaissance-level documentation of individual properties and districts with potential to be NRHP eligible (to be documented on a unit-cost basis).
 - Reference chronology maps of parcels and neighborhoods during windshield survey to assist with review of properties/subdivisions, paying special attention to properties with pre-1945 TAD dates and subdivisions with an average TAD date of 1975 or earlier. City-owned properties should also be reviewed carefully during windshield survey since they typically do not have TAD construction date data.

xii	Executive Summary	36	Jeremy Priest	Texas Main Street Program acronym is incorrectly spelled TSMP	Corrected
ii	Executive Summary	4	Justin Newhart	Previously identified historic resources seems low - does this include resources in Fort Worth?	New, updated version of table from Survey Plan inserted to replace this table
iv	Executive Summary	23	Justin Newhart	in Tarrant County realize	Sentence reworded (moved to Intro)
v	Executive Summary	11	Justin Newhart	Should be "financial incentives" rather than tax abatements to encompass the wide range of tools available.	Changed (moved to Intro)
xiv	Definitions	1	Justin Newhart	Term should be "Design Standards & Guidelines". Or provide a separate definition for Design Standards so as not confuse.	Changed
1-1	Introduction	28	Justin Newhart	Recommend changing "save" to perpetuate.	Changed to "preserve"
1-3	Introduction	12	Justin Newhart	Should read "of others".	Changed
1-3	Introduction	22-23	Justin Newhart	"manmade" resources is inconsistent with the next line, which mentions landscapes, and would appear to exclude historically significant natural areas that have not been shaped by man.	Deleted "manmade"
1-4	Introduction	12	Justin Newhart	"so many" should be "numerous"	Kept as-is
2-5	Present State of Preservation	37	Justin Newhart	"historic structure" should be "historic resource" to encompass the broad array of eligible resources.	Changed
2-6	Present State of Preservation	22	Justin Newhart	Noticing a running theme throughout the Plan that focuses on not limiting the rights of property owners... An edit is not necessarily required, but it is extremely apparent throughout the text	Noted
2-18	Present State of Preservation	1	Justin Newhart	Photo appears to be from the mid-90s. Recommend using a current photo	None readily available from a non-commercial source

4-16	Goals and Objectives	6-7	Justin Newhart	Many of these properties reside in within Fort Worth city boundaries. Should be a note on how to coordinate with the FW CLG on how to coordinate this goal/objective.	This step is just identifying eligibility; selecting and prioritizing properties is in a following step, and coordinating with municipalities is already noted there (lines 30-31)
4-22	Goals and Objectives	32	Justin Newhart	Would not recommend fees for processing tax exemption applications. We should encourage participation, and a fee would discourage participation.	Considered and discussed with County but decided to keep because need financial options
4-22	Goals and Objectives	38-39	Justin Newhart	One way to achieve this objective would be to salvage building materials from demolished properties and sell them at a "re-sale" store owned by the County	Considered and discussed with County but decided would require too much county labor and expense
4-24	Goals and Objectives	5	Justin Newhart	Recommend adding "Conduct an audit of existing program" to determine how the program is currently functioning.	Added here and in Section 6
4-37	Goals and Objectives	20-23	Justin Newhart	This would violate many ethics statutes for municipalities. For instance, Fort Worth Board and Commission members are not allowed to discuss these types of appointment-related items outside of a public hearing. Recommend emailing municipal employees who run the boards and commissions.	Changed here and in Section 6
4-37	Goals and Objectives	38-39	Justin Newhart	Could also send a "handwritten" email after each one-on-one meeting. Something to consider during COVID and beyond in our highly virtual world.	Noted here and in Section 6
4-39	Goals and Objectives	31-35	Justin Newhart	One way to achieve this objective would be through a mobile app	Added here and in Section 6
5-41	Survey Plan	8-19	Justin Newhart	Recommend using a web-based app (similar to Arches) to avoid creating excessive paperwork that will have to be uploaded onto a server, creating more staff time and consuming more resources than may be available.	Updated to note ArcGIS online or related platform developed by the THC or NPS; per THC, paper deliverables may still be necessary to meet CLG grant requirements; updated to "as necessary based on current CLG grant requirements"

3-1	Public Input		Lorelei Willett	Does this graphic/section need to be updated with a 3rd draft?	Updated
4-1	Goals and Objectives	16	Lorelei Willett	Suggest removing 'indeed, such a task has proved to be quite daunting.'	Removed
4-2	Goals and Objectives	16-34	Lorelei Willett	I skimmed these two paragraphs, it seems like a lot of extra information. Consider removing.	Edited down
4-2	Goals and Objectives	39	Lorelei Willett	Great info box	Noted, thank you!
4-15	Goals and Objectives	9	Lorelei Willett	I think maybe another objective or part of this action, wherever it would fit best, should be to identify already listed NR properties that need to be updated with more inclusive histories	Not prioritized since doesn't affect main underlying goals -- identification for planning purposes, and triggering access to incentives
4-16	Goals and Objectives	41	Lorelei Willett	I would suggest adding a criteria for underrepresented community as well	Already included on following page

4-23	Goals and Objectives	27	Lorelei Willett	Has there been discussion about this goal? It may be more appropriate to change to 'offer advice on updates to...' it sounds like the County has the authority to make changes to municipalities codes.	Reworded to be available to provide advice upon request, per discussion with County
4-23	Goals and Objectives	40	Lorelei Willett	Can't wait to explore this incentive more!	Agreed
4-26	Goals and Objectives	29	Lorelei Willett	This is a great idea, would also suggest including a DEI training	Emailed Lorelei for resources; added links to free options available, recommended posting on County web page
4-31	Goals and Objectives	12	Lorelei Willett	Think this is a great idea	Wonderful!
4-34	Goals and Objectives	29	Lorelei Willett	Might fit somewhere better but thinking about adding cultural heritage criteria or policy to ordinances/county legislation	Added here, in Goal #4, and in Section 6
6-1	Action Plan	1	Lorelei Willett	This looks great!	Noted, thank you!
A-2	Appendix A		Lorelei Willett	Can add the CLG Program Specialist to CLG section too, Maria.Mougridis@thc.texas.gov	Added
xiii	Key Terms and Definitions	8	Maria Mougridis, Texas Historical Commission	should say "such as" as opposed to "a" (a web browser such as)	Corrected
1-5	Key Aspects of the Preservation Plan	10	Maria Mougridis	missing word? add in after already? "already in place in Tarrant County"	Added
1-6	Key Aspects of the Preservation Plan	1	Maria Mougridis	Why are all the images at the end of the chapter and not throughout? It might work better to have them throughout the section instead of at the end.	Figures at the end in draft versions to make commenting on the text a more streamlined process. (Line numbers can be more useful this way, and sometimes figures may change order or be removed, etc., and saving the heavy formatting for the final version is the most expedient/cost effective.) Figures are now embedded within text.

Appendix I: Sample Interlocal Agreement

KING COUNTY (WA) AND CITY OF COVINGTON (WA) AGREEMENT

The following is an example of an interlocal agreement that King County, Washington, and the City of Covington, Washington, developed to partner on historic preservation services. While the underlying laws and regulations of this agreement vary from those in place in Texas, the approach and stipulations used in the agreement may be helpful for Tarrant County and the 41 municipalities within its borders when developing a similar interlocal agreement for historic preservation-related services.

SAMPLE

AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN KING COUNTY AND THE CITY OF COVINGTON RELATING TO LANDMARK DESIGNATION AND PROTECTION SERVICES

WHEREAS, local governmental authority and jurisdiction with respect to the designation and protection of landmarks within the city limits resides with the City; and

WHEREAS, the City desires to protect and preserve the historic buildings, structures, districts, sites, objects, and archaeological sites within the city for the benefit of present and future generations; and
